Mr. Fitzgerald said that the manner in which the bill was recalled from the President was most unusual and that he objected to the "back door" way in which the bill was returned to Congress, and thought the Chief Executive should have either signed or vetoed the bill, the right which he has under the constitution.

The Nomination of George L Hart as Postmaster of Roanoke Being Held Up.

ABOUT A REAL ESTATE DEAL

The Friends of Harris Hoge, Whom Hart Succeeded, Get Busy.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4,-It 's understood that there is a strong probability of the nomination of George L. Burt, appointed by the President to succeed Harris Hoge as postmaster Roanoke, being withdrawn. The nomination, which went to the Senate some-time ago, is being held up in the conrmittee on postoffices and post roads It was stated at the committee-room to-day that there had been no written charges filed against Mr. Hart, but that for some reason unknown to the clerk the nomination had not been acted on and had been referred to Senator Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, who is presumed to be investigating charges which have been made in an informal

The matter which is being investigated by the West Virginia zenator, refers to a land deal, in which Mr. Hart played a prominent, and, according to those who make the charges signing him, not an entirely cerditable part. He was the Roanoke representative of an Engliss syndicate which purchased certain real estate in Roanoke during the 'boom days.' It is stated that the syndicate purchased when prices were very nearly at their highest.

At any rate, prices have been much lower for several years. Some months ago, Mr. Hart advised the American atterney of the syndicate to sell his clients' property at Roanoke, saying he could get #13,600 for it. The attorney, whose home is in Philadelphia, directed that the sale be made.

The transfer was effected at the price quoted, and Mr. Hart is said to have remitted the $13,000 to his clients, possibly deductive bis complision, to which he The matter which is being investigated

The transfer was effected at the price quoted, and Mr. Hart is said to have remitted the $13,000 to his clients, possibly deducting his commission, to which he was fairly entitled. The property was sold a very short time afterwards for the sum of $30,000, a fact which, it is said, will be shown by the real estate records at the City Hall in Roanoke. It is charged that a man who is very high in the councils of the Republican party in Virginia was interested in the first sale, probably as the person, or one of the persons to whom the land was granted.

Be this as it may, soon after the conjummation of the last deal, Mr. Hari for Congress, and one of the most aclive men in the Republican party in Virginia. Then Mr. Hoge is said to have got busy. He informed the Philadelphia attorney of, the fact that the property of his English clients, which had been soid for $13,000, had been transferred a few hours after the first sale, the consideration being $30,000. The attorney communicated with Mr. Hart, who immediately informed the attorney that the latter sale had been made at the price named, and enclosed a check for $15,000, representing the difference between the price realized at the first sale ond that received at the second, less 12,000, representing Mr. Hart's commissions.

The foregoing story has been told the commistice. Senator Scott, who was a warm personal friend of the late Coloned I. Hampton Hoge, has the story, and is the subcommittee of the Committee on Postoffices and Postronds of the Senate, considering the nomination. Neither of the Virginia senators is taking any part in the investigation of the case, as it has not been referred to them.

It is understood that the friends of Mr. Hart claim they can show that there was not the slightly fraud in the transaction, and that he had no intention of withholding the difference between the price received at the first sale and that paid at the second. While it is true that the name of Mr. Hart for the postmastership may be withdrawn, for it should be remembered that Senator Scott, who is looking into the case, is quite friendly to Postmaster Hoge, who is to be succeeded by Mr. Hart, the latter's friends are understood to hold that they can prove that the transaction did not reflect in the slightest degree upon the integrity of any of the parties concerned.

"Meantime his headnches became less frequent, but did not cease altogether. When the time was ripe and I proposed to use Postum Food Coffee he consented upon the promise that he should have the old kind of ceffee at his Sunday breakfast. He grew fond of the new food drink, however, and noted that after drinking the old coffee on Sundays he suffered from unstendy nerves and a dult heavy feeling that he never had on the days when he drank Postum. The regult was that at last he said, 'I would rather have the Postum Food Coffee Sunday morning, too, if you don't mind, my dear. The old kind makes me feel like a fool all day.' You may imagine how ready I was to full in with this suggestion. The old kind of coffee has been banished from our table for more than 2 years now; Joe's headaches are only a memory and he always has stedy nerves and a clear brain to meet the exacting demands of his business. On hot summer days he relishes a glass of clear, cold Postum with a squeeze of lemon, at noon, finding it most refreshing.

WASHINGTON. April 4.—Chairman Payne, of the ways and means committee, to-day submitted the report of the committee favoring the passage of the free alcohol bill. It is an argument showing the necessity for the legislation and states that, judging from the experience of other countries, no fraud in the revenues is likely to follow. The report shows that meatly five gallons can be made from a bushel of corn and the average price of corn for five years has been something like 42 cents. This would make the entire cost of the alcohol something less than 12 cents a gallon.

REFUSE TO SELL TIMBER

(From Our Regular Correspondent,) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.-Th prospect of a railroad, with either steam or electricity as the motive power, run ning from Front Royal, in the Valley through the countles of Rappahannock and Madison to Orange Courthouse, or the Southern and Chesapeake and Ohlo, is not so remote as many might be led to think. The proposition is being considered by the business people of the counties through which the proposed road would run, and the only thing which will prevent the construction of the line will be inability to command sufficient capital. It is true that the land owners along the proposed line of the road-have refused to sell their timber land to promoters engaged in trying to inaugurate the road, and without these timber rights capitalists have shown a lock of desire to engage in the enterprise. The people who hold the simber land want to keep on holding it, believing, properly, perhaps, that if it is never a fortune to them it will be such to their children.

Both Rich Counties. ered by the business people of the coun

Both Rich Counties. Both Rich Counties.

Rappahannock and Madison are without railroad now, though they are among the rich counties of the State. Mr. Howell M. Millor, of Rappahannock, has been devoting a great deal of attention to this projected railroad, and is moved to believe he will eventually see it built. In the course of his investigation of the resources of the country through which the proposed road will run, Mr. Miller collated some interesting and very striking figures.

It is estimated that the annual production of corn in Rappahannock last year

It is estimated that the annual production of corn in Rappahannock last year was 44,000 bushels; wheat, 119,000 bushels; hay, 15,000 tons; oats, 50,000 bushels; rye, 15,000; sheep, 11,000 head; 50,000 pounds of wool; 12,000 head; 50,000 pounds of rees; 200,000 bearing apple trees; 200,000 young trees; 600,000 barrels of apples in bearing years. In addition to this, it is estimated that 2,000 tons of fertilizer alone are brought into Rappahannock every year. In addition to large quantities of other supplies purchased every year by farmers. The representative of a big nursery says, he sells ten thousand apple trees every year in Rappahannock county alone.

Interesting Data.

The landed area of Rappahannock is 160,000, one-half of which, lit is estimated, is covered with fine timber, amounting to enough to supply 400,000,000, feet of sawed lumber, worth, probably, $4,000,000. This estimate of the timber values of the county does not include 5,000,000 cross-ties, which, it is estimated, would afford the road an fincome of half a million in freight to get to market or the same and the same of the same and the same an marketan

Madison, it is claimed by her citizens is richer than Rappahannock, and Orang is richer than Ragguhannock, and Orange and Clarke are very rich counties.

The construction of this road would be of very great advantage to Richmond merchants, as it would divert to that city a great portion of the trade which now goes to Washington and Baltimore. The prospects of the building of the road are good, but progress must be slow. Parties who have contemplated the construction of a road through this section have tried in vain to get control of a substantial portion of the timber along the proposed line. The owners do not want to sell, thinking that if they themselves do not realize fortunes from their holdings, their children will do so.
